Director's Message

I would like to welcome the leaders of tomorrow to the Model United Nations today! Your presence is a timely reminder that our purpose is to help future generations. Seeing such a committed group of young adults engaged in global issues gives me hope. You embody the ideal of the United Nations—collaborating to solve issues through reasoned discussion and idea sharing.

VVPMUN aims to provide delegates with a platform to encourage original thinking and address real-world challenges. The Student Management Committee will organize and oversee this student-centered activity. Many of you will advocate for international causes or positions that you may not personally agree with, using force and fairness. Effective diplomacy requires an open mind and the ability to understand all viewpoints. Your openness to different perspectives makes this conference unique and will be crucial as you take on leadership roles in the twenty-first century.

People look to us to contribute to a healthier and more equitable world. We must advocate for universal human rights and address the issues facing the global community. VVPMUN will enhance your public speaking skills and promote autonomous learning. Quiet individuals often reach their full potential here, developing confidence and humility.

Congratulations on your rapid advancement in the diplomatic service. Greetings, young leaders! I appreciate your dedication and hope you have an incredibly interesting conference.

Letter from Secretary General

Dear Esteemed Delegates, Advisors, and Guests,

It is with great honour and enthusiasm that I welcome you to VVPMUN 2024, the second physical iteration of the VVP Model United Nations by Vishwa Vidyapeeth Group of Institutions. This conference aims to provide an impactful experience by simulating the United Nations and fostering a deep understanding of democracy, diplomacy, negotiation, research, and presentation.

Dag Hammarskjöld once remarked, “The UN was not created to take mankind to heaven, but to save humanity from hell.” In this spirit, VVPMUN 2024 seeks not only to debate and discuss but to inspire action and change. Our goal is to create a platform where young leaders can engage in meaningful dialogue, exploring the confluence of culture, commerce, and science.

As the Secretary General of VVPMUN 2024, I urge you to embrace diversity in thought, community, and culture. Real change starts with us and being informed. Participate in VVPMUN 2024 to experience seven meticulously crafted committees, step into the shoes of real diplomats, tackle real-world problems, and seek solutions through diplomacy and negotiation. Join us for the friendships, valuable memories, and knowledge gained.

I look forward to the insightful debates, innovative solutions, and lasting friendships that VVPMUN 2024 will foster. Let us commit to making this conference a landmark in our journey towards global harmony and sustainable development.

Warm regards,

P Sudhamshu
